Table of Contents

Chapter 1 - Getting Connected: An Overview of Best Practices for Using Technology to Improve Teaching and Learning in Psychology - Dana S. Dunn, Janie H. Wilson, James Freeman, and Jeffrey R. Stowell

Chapter 2 - Approach or Avoidance? Understanding Technology’s Place In and Outside of the Classroom - Dana S. Dunn, Janie H. Wilson, & James Freeman

Chapter 3 - A Walk Down Random Access Memory Lane: Implications for Teaching with Technology - Bernard C. Beins

Chapter 4 - Faculty-Student Commitment: Beyond Face to Face - Sheryl Schwartz-Burgess, Susan C. Joder, Kevin J. Apple, & Cherry L. Zies

Chapter 6 - Practical PowerPoint: Promising Principles for Developing Individual Practice - David B. Daniel

Chapter 7 - Comprehensive Hybrid Course Development - Charles M. Harris & Ulas Kaplan

Chapter 8 - Academic Advising with a Developmentally Oriented Web Site- Dean Appley

Chapter 9 - Enhancing Student Engagement and Learning Using “Clicker”-Based Interactive Classroom Demonstrations - Cary D. Muir and Sara H. Cleary

Chapter 12 - Motivating Student Engagement with Multiple and Web-Enhanced Research Labs - Kim A. Case and Daniel Gember

Chapter 13 - A Practical Guide to Using eXcise in the Classroom - Randy Clevland

Chapter 14 - I Didn’t Know I Could Do That: Using Web-Based Tools to Enhance Learning - Jorge Rodriguez and Kevin Sharp

Chapter 15 - Think Fast! Using Web-Based Reaction Time Technology to Promote Teaching about Racial Bias and Diversity - Kathryn A. Morris, Leslie Eisman-Boebe, and Robert J. Boudjou

Chapter 16 - Online Tools to Promote Student Collaboration - Kevin J. Apple, Sheryl Schwartz-Burgess, Andrea R. Adams, and Beth Gerdes

Chapter 17 - In the Classroom and Beyond: Surveying the Active Learning Universe - Beth Finkley, Clayton T. Newell II, and Laura B. Underwood

Chapter 18 - Online Quizzes: Improving Reading Compliance and Student Learning - Lonnie Yandell and William N. Bailey

Chapter 19 - Going Virtual: Virtual Worlds as Educational Tools - Suzanne C. Baker and Monica Reis-Bergan

Chapter 20 - E-Portfolios to Improve Teaching and Learning in a Digital World - Jeffrey R. Stowell

Author Index

Subject Index