Table of Contents

Preface

Chapter 1: Communication and Persuasion: Logos, Pathos, Ethos
Attention, Arguing, and Inquiry
  What are arguments?
  The process of inquiry
  The paradigm shift
  Communicating Clearly and Effectively
Sascha Redetsky, Don’t Judge Me by My Tights
Convincing Reasons and Evidence
Brian A. Courtney, Freedom from Choice
Writing Assignment: Personal Argument Essay
Finding your subject: Your writing situation
  Two strategies for finding topics
  Freewriting
  Mapping
Rhetoric and Rhetorical Situation
  Rhetorical situation
  Kairos
Writing Persuasively
The Persuasive Appeals
  Logos
  Recognizing logos
  S. I. Hayakawa, On Human Survival
Noticing Overgeneralizations
  Pathos
  Recognizing pathos
  Julia Kraus, If I Told You, Would You Want to Hear?
  Humor as pathos
  Ethos
  Recognizing ethos
Elisabeth Bletsch, Will Part of You Be Left Behind?
Thesis Statements
  Evaluating your thesis statement
Engaging Your Audience: Titles, Introductions, Conclusions
  Features of good titles
  Title strategies
  Titles to avoid
  Features of good introductions
  Introductory strategies
  Introductions to avoid
  Features of good conclusions
  Concluding strategies
  Conclusions to avoid
Actively Reading An Essay
Sarah Krumrie, No, I Heard You—I Just Don’t Think It’s Funny
Margo Brines, Forgo the Major Dilemma
Sharing and Evaluating Essays
A Note on Defining Grammar, Mechanics, and Usage
A Critical Thinker’s Guide for Evaluating Writing

Interchapter 1: Style and Voice
Diction
  Monosyllabic words
  Multisyllabic words
  Pretentious writing
Other Features of Diction
  Specific or general
Concrete or abstract
Literal or figurative
Literal language
Figurative language
Avoid clichés
Precise words
Watch Out for Things
Voice
Tone
Analyzing attitude toward audience
Analyzing attitude toward subject
Sentence Tools
Simple sentences
Joining complete thoughts: coordination
Using semicolons to join complete thoughts
Using semicolons with formal transition words
Using Semicolons in a Complex Series
Solving Two Common Sentence Problems
Comma splices
Run-on sentences

Chapter 2: Strategies of Argumentation
Using Examples, Authorities, and Statistics
Examples and Illustrations
Writing Assignment: Illustration
Using Authorities
Using Statistics
Using Contraries
Using contradictions and paradoxes
Contradictions
Writing Assignment: Contradiction
Paradoxes
Paradox and tolerance for ambiguity
Either/or thinking
Writing Assignment: Paradox
The wisdom of contraries
Using Comparison
Organizing comparison: block and alternate patterns
Writing Assignment: Comparison
Using Refutation
Writing Assignment: Refutation
Using Induction and Deduction
Induction
Deduction
Using Narration and Description
Narration
Description
Using Analogy
Explaining the mind
Using Classification
Writing Assignment: Classification
Using Cause and Effect
Writing Assignment: Cause and Effect
Using Analogy
Explaining the Mind
Writing Assignment: Analogy
Using Humor
Humorous tone
Using Definition
Digging for roots of words
Writing Assignment: Definition Essay
Writing Assignment: Exploring an Essay
Exploring an Essay
Ashley Yuill, Choose Wisely
David Gessner, A Feeling of Wildness
Leonard Pitts, Jr., Rejecting Feminism Makes No Sense
Dave Barry, Eat All That You Can Eat

Interchapter 2: Voice and Emphasis
Chapter 3: THE TOULMIN METHOD AND PROBLEMS IN REASONING

Using the Toulmin Method to Argue
- Kinds of arguments–kinds of claims
- Laws and policies
- Reality, facts
- Values, morals, taste

Warrants
- Stating the warrant

Daniel May, Practicing the Toulmin Method of Arguing
Alyssa Huntoon, Toulmin Analysis of an Editorial Cartoon
Gregg Nelson, Why Single Out Cell Phones
Exploring an essay using the Toulmin method
- Dave Eggers, Serve or Fail
- Margo Brines, Exploring Dave Eggers’s “Serve or Fail” with the Toulmin Method

Writing Assignment: Exploring an Essay with the Toulmin Method

Kathleen Parker, Children Last
Jessica Peck Corry, Republican Moms for Marijuana: “Time to Legalize Is Now”
Mike Adams, Weak Negotiating Fathers

Problems in Reasoning
- Finding the facts
- Implications, Assumptions, and Inferences
  - Implications
  - Assumptions

Fallacies

Problems of Insufficient Evidence
- Overgeneralizing

John Gray, Wallets and Purses
- Card stacking
- Ad ignorantium
- Post hoc ergo propter hoc

Problems Based on Irrelevant Information
- Ad baculum
- Ad hominem
- Fallacy of opposition
- Genetic fallacy
- Guilt by association
- Ad misericordiam
- Ad populum
- Bandwagon
- Plain folks and snob appeal
- Ad verecundiam
- Red herring
- Weak opponent
- Tu quoque
- Oversimplification

Problems of Ambiguity
- Amphibole
- Begging the question
- Equivocation
- Loaded language
- False analogy
Other Problems of Faulty Reasoning
- False dilemma (either/or thinking)
- Non sequitur
- Rationalization
- Reductio ad absurdum
- Slippery slope

Interchapter 3: Strategies of Repetition
Sentence Tools
- Parallelism
- Anaphora
- Epistrophe

The Power of Threes in Sentences
Susan Ager, Baby, Baby, Baby, 3 Has Its Charms
- Using threes in sentences: rising order or not
- Varying sentence beginnings: three ways
- Using -ing phrases
- Misusing -ing Phrases: Misplaced Modifiers
- Using -ed or -en phrases
- Using To phrases

Chapter 4: ROGERIAN ARGUMENT
Problems with the Argument Culture
Rogerian Argument
- Common Ground
  - Advantages and Disadvantages of Rogerian Argument
Applying Rogerian Argument
Richard Selzer, Brute
Writing Assignment: Personal Essay Using Rogerian Argument
Student Model Paper
Critical Reading Strategies
Outlining and Summarizing
Writing Assignment: Using Rogerian Argument to Analyze Essays
Gary Steiner, Animal, Vegetable, Miserable
Student Model Paper
Readings for Rogerian Argument
Courtney E. Martin, The Undocumented American Dream
John Hawkins, 5 Reasons Illegal Immigrants Shouldn’t Be Given American Citizenship
Benjamin Could, Cognitive Enhancement on Campus: Taking Competition Seriously
Mitch Albom, The Real Tragedy of a Notre Dame Football Recruit’s Spring Break Death
Robert Voas, There’s No Benefit to Lowering the Drinking Age
John J. Miller, The Case Against 21
Maggie Gallagher, The Message of Same-Sex Marriage
Scott Seider and Howard Gardner, The Fragmented Generation

Interchapter 4: Style and CONTRARIES
Sentence Tools
- Antithesis
- Antithesis and balanced sentences
- Loose and periodic sentences

Fine-Tuning Sentences
- False starts
- Active and passive verbs

Chapter 5: RHETORICAL ANALYSIS
What Is a Rhetorical Analysis?
Why Do a Rhetorical Analysis?
Guidelines for Exploring an Essay for a Rhetorical Analysis
Writing Assignment: A Rhetorical Analysis
Student Model Paper
Readings for Rhetorical Analysis
Charles M. Blow, Welcome to the Club
Mitch Albom, Don’t Shoot Holes in Gun Control Bills
Eve Ensler, The Power and Mystery of Naming Things
Anna Quindlen, Whoever We Are, Loss Finds Us and Defines Us
Leonard Pitts, Jr., Sept. 12, 2001: We’ll Go Forward from This Moment
A Call for Unity: Letter from Eight White Clergymen
Martin Luther King, Jr., Letter from a Birmingham Jail
Interchapter 5: Exploring Style
Presenting Yourself in E-Mail
Tools of Style
Guidelines for Writing an Essay to Explore Style
Exploring the Style of a Passage
Writing Assignment: Exploring the Style of an Essay or a Speech
Rick Reilly, The Swooshification of the World
Student Model Paper
Essays for Exploration
Anna Quindlen, Commencement Speech at Mount Holyoke College
Martin Luther King Jr., I Have a Dream

Chapter 6: Visual Arguments

News photographs
Feature photography
Staged images
Documentary photographs

Writing Assignment: Photographs
essays exploring photographs
Like a photograph, a painting

Advertisements
Special Considerations for Exploring Ads
Student essays exploring advertisements

Writing Assignment: Advertisements
Cartoons

Cartoons and creativity
Creativity and humor
Serious cartoons
Editorial cartoons

Special Considerations for Exploring Cartoons
Writing Assignment: Cartoons
Student essays exploring cartoons

Film
Writing about a film
Writing Assignment: Film Review
Guidelines for Writing a Film Review
Before you do research
Finding and synthesizing sources
Student Film Review

Chapter 7: Critical Thinking about Poetry and Fiction
Reading and Writing about Poetry
Theodore Roethke, My Papa’s Waltz
The language of poetry
Emily Dickinson, A Narrow Fellow in the Grass
Elements of poetry
Diction
Imagery

Theodore Roethke, Cellar
Figures of speech: metaphors, similes, and symbols

Sylvia Plath, Metaphors
Tone
Speaker
Sound patterns
Structure
Line breaks

Reading Notebook
William Stafford, Traveling through the Dark
Writing Assignment: An Essay about a Poem
Robert Hayden, Those Winter Sundays
Student essay exploring a poem

Poems to Consider for Writing an Essay
Mary Oliver, The Summer Day
Ted Kooser, Splitting an Order
Kim Noriega, Heaven, 1963
Paula Sergi, Vocations Club
Jim Daniels, Work Boots: Still Life
Chapter 8: Research Strategies

Research Writing Options

The report

The argument paper

It May Feel Like a Mountain of Information

Strategy One: Using Subject-Specific Encyclopedias

Preliminary reading and your research question

Strategy Two: Looking for Books

The library catalog

Critical thinking in a research notebook

Taking notes

Strategy Three: Looking for Articles

Using databases

Differences between magazines and journals

An advantage of journals

Newspaper articles and online archives

Divide your work into steps or phases

Look for the most recent sources first

Professional, technical, and specialty journals

Strategy Four: Government Documents and Statistics

Biographical sources

Book reviews

Strategy Five: Doing Some Field Research

Guidelines for interviews

Writing Assignment: Research Proposal

Example of research proposal

Chapter 9: Evaluating Evidence

Scholarship and the Wikipedia Dilemma

Scott Jaschik, A Stand Against Wikipedia

T. Mills Kelly, Why I Won't Get Hired at Middlebury

Research and the Internet

What Is a Reliable Site?

Criteria for Web sites

Who Is the Author?

Identifying authors

Watch out for false and impartial authorities

Reliable Information: On the Web and Off

Context

Timely data

Documentation and credibility

Hoaxes and frauds

Understanding Evidence in Research Writing

Claim

Persuasive Appeals

Questioning evidence

Primary and secondary evidence
Chapter 10: Writing Your Research Paper

Researchers as Writers
- Working through your project
- Discovering order
- Shaping your thesis
- Substantiating your data
- Understanding your audience
- Controlling your voice
- Using tools of style
- Using persuasive appeals
- Taking your time

Using Sources: In-Text Citation
- Using author's name within a sentence
- Using author's name in parentheses
- Using signal phrases with direct quotes
- Using direct quotes for words, phrases, and sentences
- How to use long quotes
- Vary the way you use direct quotes
- Using blended quotes within your own sentences
- Commas and periods go inside quotation marks
- Using colons and semicolons with quotation marks
- Using single quotation marks
- Using quotation marks around words used in a special sense
- Using an ellipsis mark to indicate omission of words
- Using brackets to add your own words in a quote
- Using “sic” to indicate errors in quotes
- When it is appropriate to use direct quotes

Common knowledge

Plagiarism, Summarizing, and Paraphrasing

Writing a Report
- A model report
- Organizing reports

The Formal Outline
- The preliminary outline
- The formal outline model

Apply What You Have Learned in Earlier Chapters

Chapter 11: Documentation: MLA and APA

Guidelines for References in Your Text: MLA Style
- Directory To MLA Works Cited Models
- Book: MLA Basic Works Cited Model
- Books: MLA Works Cited Models
- Periodical: MLA Basic Works Cited Model
- Periodicals: MLA Works Cited Models
- Online Sources: MLA Works Cited Models
- Other Sources: MLA Works Cited Models
- MLA Guidelines for Manuscript Format

APA Style: Name and Date Method of Documentation

Guidelines for References in Your Text: APA Style
- References List in APA Style
- Directory to APA Works Cited Models
- Book: APA Basic Reference Form
Books: APA Reference List Models