

Practical Counselling & Helping Skills

Nelson-Jones, Richard

ISBN-13: 9781412903875

Table of Contents

PART ONE: INTRODUCTION

What Is Counselling and Helping

Chapter outcomes

Counselling, psychotherapy and helping

What is counselling?

What is the lifeskills counselling approach?

Create Communication Skills and Feelings

Chapter outcomes

What are lifeskills?

Creating communication and action skills

Feelings and physical reactions

Create Mind Skills

Chapter outcomes

The Situation-Thoughts-Consequences (STC) framework

What are mind skills?

Situation-Thoughts-Consequences revisited

The Lifeskills Counselling Model

Chapter outcomes

Stages and phases of the lifeskills counselling model

Applying the model

PART TWO: THE RELATING STAGE

Pre-Counselling Contact

Chapter outcomes

Orientation of counselling service

Physical premises

Advertising a counselling service

Clients making initial contact

Arranging suitable support for trainees

Record-keeping

Listening Skills

Chapter outcomes

The counselling relationship

Active listening

Skill 1: Possess an attitude of respect and acceptance

Skill 2: Understand the client's internal frame of reference

Skill 3: Receive voice messages accurately

Skill 4: Receive body messages accurately

Skill 5: Give small rewards and ask open-ended questions

Show Understanding Skills

Chapter outcomes

Showing understanding

Skill 6: Paraphrase

Skill 7: Reflect feelings

Skill 8: Use mind skills

Skill 9: Manage initial resistances

Skill 10: Show understanding of context and difference

Concluding comment

Start the Counselling and Helping Process

Chapter outcomes

Goals for the initial counselling session

Starting initial sessions

Structuring skills

Basic summarizing skills

Starting the counselling and helping process

Contracting

Referral skills

Crisis counselling

PART THREE: THE UNDERSTANDING STAGE

Clarify Problems Skills

Chapter outcomes

Questioning skills

Challenging skills

Feedback skills

Self-disclosure skills

Assess Feelings and Physical Reactions

Chapter outcomes

Role of assessment

Why assess feelings and physical reactions?

Physical reactions

Dimensions of feelings

Skills for eliciting and assessing feelings and physical reactions

- Assess Thinking
 - Chapter outcomes
 - Skills for eliciting and assessing thinking
 - Form hypotheses about mind skills to improve
- Assess Communication and Actions
 - Chapter outcomes
 - Skills for eliciting and assessing communication and actions
 - Form hypotheses about communication and action skills to improve
- Agree On a Shared Analysis of Problems
 - Chapter outcomes
 - Introduction
 - Steps in shared analyses of problems
 - Some skills for agreeing on shared analyses of problems
 - Ending initial sessions
- PART FOUR: THE CHANGING STATE
- Plan Interventions
 - Chapter outcomes
 - Interventions and plans
 - Choosing interventions
 - Planning interventions
 - Considerations in planning
 - Skills for working with clients
- Deliver Interventions
 - Chapter outcomes
 - The counsellor as trainer
 - Reconnect and catch-up skills
 - Establishing session agenda skills
 - Speaking skills
 - Demonstrating skills
 - Coaching skills
- Interventions for Thinking - 1
 - Chapter outcomes
 - Attend to feelings
 - Creating rules
 - Creating perceptions
 - Creating self-talk
 - Creating visual images
- Interventions for Thinking - 2
 - Chapter outcomes
 - Creating explanations
 - Creating expectations
 - Creating realistic goals
 - Creating realistic decisions
 - Preventing and managing problems and altering problematic skills
- Interventions for Communication and Actions - 1
 - Chapter outcomes
 - Introduction
 - Develop monitoring skills
 - Raise awareness of vocal and bodily communication
 - Rehearse and role-play
 - Timetable activities
- Interventions for Communication and Actions - 2
 - Chapter outcomes
 - Plan sub-goals and sequence graded tasks
 - Assist clients to use changing communication/action skills experiments
 - Use activities and games
 - Assist clients to use self-reward skills
 - Use counsellor's aides and help clients to obtain support
- Interventions for Feelings
 - Chapter outcomes
 - Introduction
 - Assist clients to experience feelings
 - Assist clients to express feelings
 - Assist clients to manage feelings
 - Use of medication
- Systematic Desensitization
 - Chapter outcomes
 - Progressive muscular relaxation
 - Construct hierarchies
 - Present hierarchy items
 - Real-life desensitization
- Negotiate Homework
 - Chapter outcomes
 - Skills for negotiating homework
- Conduct Middle Sessions
 - Chapter outcomes
 - Middle counselling sessions
 - Length, frequency and number of sessions
 - Monitoring and evaluating progress
- End and Client Self-Helping
 - Chapter outcomes
 - When should counselling end?
 - Formats for ending counselling
 - Consolidating skills when ending counselling
 - Further ending counselling tasks and skills

Client self-helping

PART FIVE: FURTHER CONSIDERATIONS

Ethics in Practice and Training

Chapter outcomes

Ethical principles of counselling and helping

Ethical issues and dilemmas in counselling and helping practice

Ethical issues and dilemmas in counselling and helping training

Making decisions about ethical issues and dilemmas

Diversity-Sensitive Counselling and Helping

Chapter outcomes

Some criticisms of traditional counselling approaches

Multicultural counselling and helping

Gender-aware counselling and helping

Using the lifeskills counselling model with diverse clients

Supervision

Chapter outcomes

Introduction

Contexts for supervision

Formats for supervision

Functions of supervision

Presenting material in supervision

Conducting supervision sessions

The shadow side of supervision

Personal Counselling and Continuing Professional Development

Chapter outcomes

Personal counselling and self-help

Continuing professional development (CPD)

Concluding comment

Review activity