Table of Contents

List of Figures and Tables
Foreword
Preface
Acknowledgments

1. Defining the MBWA Leader
   Personal Attributes and Beliefs of MBWA Leaders
   Examples of MBWA From History
   Examples of MBWA from Industrial and Educational Leaders
   For Reflection
   The Research Base

2. School Leadership: What Matters Most
   Great Man Theory of Leadership
   The Trait Theory
   Modern Leadership Theories
   Assessing Your Leadership Style
   Leadership Element Number 1: Theory X vs. Theory Y
   For Reflection

3. Why Teachers Teach and Why They Leave
   For Reflection
   Why Teachers Teach
   Why Teachers Leave
   Lack of Focus on Student Learning

4. Why Teachers Stay
   For Reflection
   Supportive Leadership of the MBWA Principal
   The Improvement Ethic
   For Reflection
   Promote Collaborative Leadership
   Recognize Successes

5. Promoting Quality Curriculum Through MBWA
   Quality of Curriculum Content
   Teaching to the Test: Ethical or Unethical?
   For Reflection
   Designing an Aligned Curriculum
   Topological Alignment
   Deep Alignment
   For Reflection
   Ensuring High Quality Instruction
   High-Impact Factor 1-Instructional Strategies
   The I Think Variety of Studies
   Level I Research-Backed Studies
   Level 2 Research-Backed Studies
   High-Impact Factor 2-Classroom Management
   High-Impact Factor 3-Classroom Curriculum Design
   Monitoring the Curriculum
   Caveats on Research

6. Getting Into Classrooms
   For Reflection
   Research Supporting Frequent Principal Classroom Observations
   Conducting Informal Classroom Observations
   Purposes for Conducting Informal Classroom Observations
Information Gathered
Using the Information Gathered
Observation Rules of "Etiquette"
Signal That the Visit is Informal
Enter Without Disruption
Keep Individual Classroom Data Collected Confidential
Informal Classroom Observation Protocols
The Downey Walk-Through with Reflective Inquiry
The 5-Step Observation Structure
The Reflective Conversation
The Walk&’bout
For Reflection

7. Finding Time for MBWA
For Reflection
The Research on How Principals Spend their Time
How MBWA Administrators Find the Time
Analyzing the Big Picture
Step One: Rate Your Life Role
Step Two: Log the Hours
Step Three: Compare Your Priorities
Step Four: Study a Sample Analysis of Time Spent
Step Five: Consider a Sample Plan for Spending Time
Step Six: Develop Your Own Plan
Time Management Myths
Myth One: More Time Spent is Better
Myth Two: An Open Door Policy is Always Good
Myth Three: You Must Do It All Yourself
Myth Four: There is Not Enough Time To Do It All
Myth Five: You Should Read It All
Myth Six: Ignore Problems and They Will Go Away
Finding Time at Work for MBWA
Time Wasters
Planning for More Effective Use of Time
Technique 1: Embrace Value Added Work
Technique 2: Separate the Wheat from the Chaff
Log Your Activities
Analyze the Data
Strategies for Dealing with Time Wasters
Too Much Time on the Telephone
Too Many Drop-In Visitors
The Mail/Email Trap
Meetings: Wasting Time Versus Making Progress
Meeting Types
Information Meetings
Action Meetings
Information and Action Meetings Combined
Planning a Productive Meeting
Before the Meeting
Build an Agenda
Communicate Expectations
Arrange the Room
Beginning the Meeting
Start on Time
Select a Recorder
Establish Ground Rules to Guide the Meeting
During the Meeting
At the End of the Meeting
Review Actions Taken
Evaluate the Meeting
For Reflection

8. Promoting Good Student Discipline and a Safe Campus
Plan a Team Approach to School-Wide Student Discipline
Know the Board&’s Policies and Regulations
Create a Student Discipline Plan
For Reflection
Make the Campus Safe
Supervise Adequately
Avoid Negligence
Establish Lines of Communication with the Police

9. Dealing with Unmet Expectations: Marginal and Incompetent Teachers
The Day of Reckoning
Analyzing Teacher Performance
Dealing with Unsatisfactory Teachers: A Four-Phase Process
Phase 1: Initial Diagnosis
Phase 2: The First Formal Plan for Improvement
The Superintendent&’s Office and Legal Counsel
Independent Evaluators
The Mentor or Peer Assistant
Reviewing and Validating the Performance Improvement Plan
Observations
Signed Documents
Phase 3: Official Corrective Action
Notice to Improve
The Final Decision
Phase 4: The Termination Process
Points to Keep in Mind When Dealing With Unsatisfactory Teachers
Dealing Effectively with Grievances

10. Ensuring Due Process and Building the File
Why Tenure?

Due Process
Guidelines for Ensuring Substantive Due Process
Substantive Due Process Guideline 1: Defining Teacher Competencies
Substantive Due Process Guideline 2: Data Gathering Procedures and Documentation
Substantive Due Process Guideline 3: Remediation and Resources
Staying Legal with Substantive Due Process Requirements
Guidelines for Ensuring Procedural or Statutory Due Process
Procedural (Statutory) Due Process Guideline 1: Notice of Deficiencies, Procedures, Rights
Procedural Due Process Guideline 2: The Right to a Hearing, Proper Notification
Procedural Due Process Guideline 3: Formal Hearing Rights
Procedural Due Process Guideline 4: Statutes, Board Policies, and Procedures
Staying Legal with Procedural Due Process

Documentation and File Building
Criterion 1: Clear, Direct, and “To the Point” Vs. Veiled and “Sugarcoated”
Criterion 2: Detailed and Specific Content

The Formal Disciplinary Memo
The Phase-3 Decision
Alternatives to the Dismissal Process
Reassignment
A Settlement or Buy-Out

Epilogue

Resources
Resource A: Elementary School Parent Survey
Resource B: Secondary School Parent Survey
Resource C: Summative Teacher Performance Evaluation
Resource D: Teacher Self-Assessment Inventory of Skills and Interests

References

Index