Table of Contents

I. FOUNDATIONS

1. Interpersonal Communication: A First Look
   - What Is Interpersonal Communication?
   - Interpersonal Communication Takes Two
   - Interpersonal Communication is a Lifelong Project
   - Models of Interpersonal Communication
     - People
     - Messages
     - Channels
     - Noise
     - Feedback
     - Context
     - Effect
   - Visualizing Communication
   - How Does Interpersonal Communication Enhance Our Lives?
     - It Fulfills Psychological Functions
     - It Fulfills Social Functions
     - It Fulfills Information Functions
     - It Fulfills Influence Functions
   - Understanding Interpersonal Contact: Characteristics, Patterns, and Axioms of Communication
     - Five Characteristics of Interpersonal Communication
     - Interpersonal Communication is a Dynamic Process
     - Interpersonal Communication is Unrepeatable
     - Interpersonal Communication is Irreversible
     - Interpersonal Communication is Learned
     - Interpersonal Communication is Characterized by Wholeness and Nonsummativity
   - Interpersonal Patterns
     - Five Communication Axioms
     - Axiom 1: You Cannot Not Communicate
     - Axiom 2: Every Interaction Has a Content and Relationship Dimension
     - Axiom 3: Every Interaction Is Defined by How It Is Punctuated
     - Axiom 4: Messages Consist of Verbal Symbols and Nonverbal Cues
     - Axiom 5: Interactions are Either Symmetrical or Complementary
   - The Impact of Diversity and Culture
     - Diversity and Communication Style
     - Orientation and Cultural Context
       - Individual and Collective Orientation
       - High-Context and Low-Context Communication
     - The Impact of Gender
     - Gender and Communication Style
     - The Impact of Media and Technology
     - On the Way to Gaining Communication Competence
   - Add to Your Storehouse of Knowledge about Interpersonal Communication
     - Recognize How Your Relationships Affect You
     - Analyze Your Options
     - Interact Ethically, Respect Diversity, and Think Critically About Your Person-to-Person Contacts
     - Practice and Apply Skills to Improve Interpersonal Performance

2. The Impact of Self-Concept
   - The Self-Concept: Your Answer to Whom You Are
     - How Are the Self and Self-Concept Related?
     - How Accurate is the Self-Concept?
     - Self-Esteem: Assessing Self-Worth
     - High versus Low Self-Esteem
     - Self-Esteem and Performance
     - How Others Shape Our Self-Concept
     - We Reflect Others' Appraisals
     - We Compare Ourselves with Others
     - We Have a Perceived, Ideal, and Expected Self
     - Goffman's Dramaturgical Approach
     - Imagining a Future Self
     - Reactions to You: Confirming, Rejecting, and Disconfirming Responses
     - The Self-Fulfilling Prophecy: The Influence of Positive and Negative Pygmalions
   - Revising Your Self-Concept: Reexamining Impressions and Conceptions
     - Diversity and Culture in Relationships: How Important Is the "I"?
     - The Self in Individualistic and Collectivist Cultures
     - The Self in High- and Low-Context Cultures
     - The Self in High- and Low-Power Distance Cultures
     - Attitudes Toward the Self Across Cultures
     - Gender and Self-Concept
     - Seeing the Self through Media and the Technological Looking Glass
     - The Impact of the Media
The Impact of Technology
Gaining Communication Competence: Ways to Strengthen Your Self-Concept
Update Pictures
Take Lots and Lots of Pictures
Explore Others’ Pictures of You
Picture Possibilities

3. Perception
Our Perception Defines Our Reality
Do We See the Same Reality?
Perception in Action: The Process at Work
Selection
Organization
Evaluation and Interpretation
Memory
Response
Frameworks of Perception
Schemata
Perceptual Sets or Selectivities
Ethnocentrism and Stereotypes
Barriers to Accurate Perception
Age and Person Perception
Fact-Inference Confusions
Allness
Indiscrimination
Frozen Evaluations and Snap Judgments
Blinding
Judging Others More Harshly Than Ourselves
Diversity and Culture: Interpreting Through Different I’s
Gender and Perception
The Media, Technology, and Perception
The Media and Perception
Technology and Perception
Gaining Communication Competence: Enhancing Your Perceptual Abilities
Recognize the Part You Play
Be a Patient Perceiver
Become a Perception Checker
Widen Your Perception
See Through the Eyes of Another
Build Perceptual Bridges, Not Walls
Consider How Technology is Changing How We Perceive

II. MESSAGES
4. Listening
Listening In Your Life
The Difference Between Effective and Ineffective Listeners
Stages of Listening
Stage One-- Hearing
Stage Two-- Understanding
Stage Three-- Remembering
Stage Four-- Interpreting
Stage Five-- Evaluating
Stage Six-- Responding
Styles and Types of Listening
Styles of Listening
People-Oriented
Action-Oriented
Content-Oriented
Time-Oriented
Types of Listening
Appreciative Listening
Comprehensive or Informative Listening
Critical/Deliberative Listening
Empathic Listening
Listening Ethics
Do You Tune Out?
Do You Fake Attention?
Do You Ignore Specific Individuals?
Do You Lose Emotional Control?
Do You Avoid Challenging Content?
Are You Egocentric?
Do You Waste Potential Listening Time?
Are You Overly Apprehensive?
Are You Suffering Symptoms of Listening Burnout?
Hurdling Listening Roadblocks
Responding with Feedback
Defining Feedback
Feedback Options
Feedback May Be Immediate or Delayed
Feedback May Be Person or Message Focused
Feedback May Be Low- or High-Monitoring
Feedback May Be Evaluative or Nonevaluative
Culture’s Influence on Listening
Gender’s Influence on Listening
Media and Technological Influences on Listening
Media Influences
Technology's Influences
Gaining Communication Competence
Step One: Catch Yourself Exhibiting a Bad Habit
Step Two: Substitute a Good Habit for a Bad Habit
Step Three: Listen with Your Whole Body
Step Four: Consistently Use Your Ears, Not Just Your Mouth
Step Five: See the Other Side
Step Six: Don't Listen Assumptively
Step Seven: Participate Actively

5. Communicating with Words
Defining Language
The Meaning of Words
The Triangle of Meaning
Removing Semantic Barriers
Differentiate Denotative and Connotative Meaning
Recognize How Time and Place May Change Meaning
Consider the Effect of Your Words
Euphemisms and Linguistic Ambiguity
Recognize Emotive Language
Acknowledged the Power of Polarizing Language
Balance Politically Correct Language
Beware of Bypassing
Don't Be Misled by Labels
Language and Relationships: Communication Style, Words, and Feelings
Culture Speak
Gender Speak
Language Can Diminish and Stereotype Women and Men
Language Practices of Males and Females Reflect Goals and Feelings about Power
Age and Language
Language, Media, and Technology
Experiencing Media
Experiencing Technology
Gaining Communication Competence: Making Your Words Work
Are My Words Clear?
Are My Words Appropriate?
Am I Using Words That Are Concrete?
Do My Words Speak to the Other Person and Reflect the Context?
Do I Share "To Me" Meaning?
Do I Respect Uniqueness?
Do I look for Growth?

6. Nonverbal Communication
Defining Nonverbal Communication
The Functions and Characteristics of Nonverbal Communication
The Functions of Nonverbal Cues
Characteristics of Nonverbal Communication
All Nonverbal Behavior Has Message Value
Nonverbal Communication is Ambiguous
Nonverbal Communication is Predominantly Relational
Nonverbal Behavior May Reveal Deception
Reading Nonverbal Messages
Kinesics: The Messages of Movement
Face and Eye Talk
Gestures and Posture: The Body in Motion and at Rest
Paralinguistics: The Messages of the Voice
Pitch
Volume
Rate
Articulation and Pronunciation
Hesitations and Silence
Proxemics: Space and Distance Talks
Spatial Relationships: Near or Far
Places and Their Spaces: Decoding the Environment
Territoriality: Yours and Mine
Haptics: Touch
Artifactual Communication and Appearance
Olifacts: Smell
Color: Associations and Connections
Chronemics: the Communicative Value of Time
Culture and Nonverbal Behavior
Gender and Nonverbal Behavior
Nonverbal Cues and Flirting: Expressing Interest or Disinterest
Media, Technology, and Nonverbal Messages
Gaining Communication Competetence in Nonverbal Communication
Pay Attention to Nonverbal Messages
When Uncertain About a Nonverbal Cue's Meaning, Ask!
Realize Inconsistent Messages Have Communicative Value
Match the Degree of Closeness You Seek with the Nonverbal Behavior You Display
Monitor Nonverbal Behavior
Acknowledge the Ability to Encode and Decode Nonverbal Messages Varies

7. Conversations
The Importance of Conversational Contact
What Is Conversation?
Conversation: Games and Players
Conversational Structure
The Greeting
Topic Priming
The Heart of the Conversation
Preliminary Processing
The Closing
Conversational Management
Turn-Taking: Maintaining and Yielding the Floor
The Cooperation Principle
The Dialogue Principle
Repairing Conversational Damage
Cultural Differences and Conversation
Gender Differences and Conversation
Media and Technology Talk
Media Talk
Technology Talk
Gaining Communication Competence
Develop Metaconversational Abilities
Develop Awareness of How Culture and Gender Differences Affect Conversation
Strive to Improve Conversation Initiation, Management, and Termination Abilities

III. DYNAMICS
8. Emotions
What Are Emotions?
Why Emotional Intelligence Is Important
The Look and Feel of Emotions
Surprise!
Anger
Happiness
Sadness
Fear
Emotions: Primary, Mixed, and Contagious
Emotions Affect Evaluations
Relationships and Emotions
Are Your Emotions Facilitative or Debilitative?
What Do You Tell Yourself?
What Do You Tell Another Person?
What's Your Emotional Attachment Style?
Culture and the Expression of Emotion
Gender and the Expression of Emotion
Media and Technology: Channeling Feelings
Media Models
Technological Channels
Gaining Communication Competence: Communicating Emotion
Recognize that Thoughts Cause Feelings
Choose the Right Words
Show That You Accept Responsibility for Your Feelings
Share Feelings Fully Describe the Response You Seek

9. Trust
What Is Trust?
The Bases of Trust
The Components of Trust
Trusting Behavior
Trustworthy Behavior
Failed Trust
Forgiveness: Rebuilding a Relationship After Trust Is Betrayed
Cost-Benefit Theory: The Price We Are Willing to Pay for a Relationship
Defining the Relational Situation
Cooperative and Competitive Relationships
Supportive and Defensive Relationships
Evaluation versus Description
Control versus Problem Orientation
Strategy versus Spontaneity
Neutrality versus Empathy
Superiority versus Equality
Certainty versus Provisionalism
Deception and Relationship Ethics
Why Do We Lie?
White Lies: Motivation Matters
Lying to Ourselves: Defensive Strategies
Displacement
Repression
Rationalization
Relational Counterfeiters
The Effects of Lying
The Effects of Gossip
Culture and Trust
Gender and Trust
Media, Technology, and Lessons on Trust
The Media and Trust
Technology and Trust
Gaining Communication Competence: Nurturing a Trusting Relationship
Be Willing to Disclose Yourself to Another Person
Let the Other Person Know You Accept and Support Him or Her
Develop a Cooperative/Supportive Rather Than a Competitive/Defensive Orientation
Trust Another When Warranted
10. Power and Influence

The Control Factor: Exploring the Balance of Power in Relationships

Feeling Powerful versus Powerless
Are You Socially Anxious?
Are You on a Power Trip?
Where Does Power Come From?
Power Categories
Reward Power
Coercive Power
Expert Power
Legitimate Power
Referent Power
Persuasive Power
Exercising Persuasion
The Role of Attitudes
What Is an Attitude?
Where Do Our Attitudes Come From?
The Role of Beliefs
What Are Beliefs?
Defining and Characterizing Values
Gaining Compliance in Interpersonal Relationships
Strategies for Compliance Gaining Strategies for Balancing Attitudes
Routes to Interpersonal Influence
Diversity, Values, and Relational Power
Gender and the Balance of Power
Media, Technology, and Power Shifts
Media Power
Technological Power
Gaining Communication Competence: Controlling Relationships
Use Power Wisely
Understand How Beliefs, Values, and Attitudes Affect Interactions
Capitalize on the Need for Balance

11. Conflict

The Meaning of Conflict
Conflict Defined
Conflict Is Based on Interaction
Feelings About Conflict
Functional Conflict
Dysfunctional Conflict
Conflict’s Sources
Interactions Among Individuals
Conflict-Generating Behaviors
Preemptive Striking
Forcing
Blaming
Classifying Conflict
The Nature of the Goal
The Intensity Level of the Conflict
The Character of the Conflict
Conflict Management Styles
Avoidance
Competitive
Compromising
Accommodative
Collaborative
Communication Behavior in the Face of Conflict
Destructive Communication Behaviors
Constructive Communication Behaviors
DESC Scripts
Describe
Express
Specify
Consequences
Your Expressive Style: Nonassertive, Aggressive, or Assertive
Nonassertiveness
Why We Don't Assert Ourselves
Nonassertive Language
Aggressiveness
Why We Act Aggressively
Aggressive Language
Assertiveness
Learning Assertive Behavior
Assertive Language
Culture and Conflict Resolution
Gender and Conflict Resolution
Media, Technology, and Conflict Resolution: Models or Madness
Media Portrayals: Model the Way
Technology: Real and Unreal
Gaining Communication Competence: Guidelines for Resolving Conflict
Recognize That Conflict Can Be Resolved Rationally
Agree How to Define the Conflict
Exchange Perceptions: Describe, Express, Specify, and Note Behavioral Consequences
Assess Alternative Solutions and Choose the One That Seems Best
Implement and Evaluate the Selected Solution
IV. RELATIONSHIP DYNAMICS

12. Relationship Dynamics

Why Do We Need Relationships?
Relationships Preserve Happiness and Health
Relationships Prevent Isolation
Relationships Meet Interpersonal Needs
Relationships Serve Behavioral Anchors
Relationships Function as Communication Conduits
When Good, Relationships Help Maintain our Sense of Worth
Relationship Characteristics
Relationship Duration
Contact Frequency
Sharing
Support
Interaction Variability
Relationship Goals
Forming Friendships
The Nature of Intimacy
The Nature of Acquaintanceships
The Nature of Friendship
Role-Limited Interaction
Friendly Relations
Moving Toward Friendship
Nascent Friendship
Stabilized Friendship
Waning Friendship
Romance: Coming Together and Breaking Apart
Love's Dimensions
The Triangle of Love
Love's Stages
Stage 1: Initiating
Stage 2: Experimenting
Stage 3: Intensifying
Stage 4: Integrating
Stage 5: Bonding
Stage 6: Differentiating
Stage 7: Circumscribing
Stage 8: Stagnating
Stage 9: Avoiding
Stage 10: Terminating
Relationship Attractors
Physical Attractiveness
Social Attractiveness
Task Attractiveness
Proximity
Reinforcement
Similarity
Complementarity
Culture and Connection
Does the Culture Place More Stress on Individuals or on Social Relationships?
Does the Culture Promote the Development of Short- or Long-Term Relationships?
Does the Culture Value Results or the Interactional Process?
Gender and Relationship Formation
Media, Technology, and Social Worlds
Media Portrayals of Friendship and Romance
Technology: Meeting in Cyberspace
Gaining Communication Competence: Mastering Relationship Complexities
Understand that Relationships Don’t Just Happen
Recognize Why We Need Others
Understand the Nature of Friendship and Romantic Relationships
Meet the Challenges posed by Media and Technology

13. Intimacy and Distance in Relationships

Self-Disclosure and Intimacy
Social Penetration Theory
The Social Penetration Model
The Johari Window and Self-Disclosure
Using Relational Dialectics to Understand Relationships
Integration-Separation
Stability-Change
Expression-Privacy
Working through Dialectical Tensions
Relationship Maintenance
Relationship Repair: Fix It or End It
Identify the Problem
Identify Strategies to Repair the Problem
Decide to Dissolve or Save the Relationship
The Dark Side of Relationships: Dysfunctions and Toxic Communication
Relationships and Death: Processing Grief
Culture and Relational Intimacy
Gender, Intimacy, and Distance
Media and Technology: The Decline of Privacy and Distance
Gaining Communication Competence in Handling Both Relational Closeness and Distance
How Important to You Is This Person?
Are You Willing to Initiate Interaction?
How Much and What Kind of Intimacy Do You Desire?

The Nature of Familial Communication

The Family as Communication System
Family Members Are Interdependent
The Family is Greater Than the Sum of Its Parts
Family Members Engage in Mutual Influence
Family Communication: Roles and Rules
Communication Patterns in Families
Problematic Communication Patterns
Productive Communication Patterns
Culture and Family
Varying Family Composition
Varying Communication Styles
Varying Family Roles
Gender and the Family
Media, Technology, and the Family
Interpersonal Communication at Work
Relationships Are the Organization
The Dyad and the Organization
A Question of Dependence and Independence
A Question of Trust
A Question of Perception
Networks, Interaction, and Relationship Satisfaction
Working in Teams
Create Healthy Work Climates
Practice Effective Decision-Making
Use Reflective Thinking
Use Brainstorming
Avoid Groupthink
Culture, Gender, Media and Technology, and the Workplace
Culture and the Workplace
Gender and the Workplace
Workplace Pathologies: Bullying and Sexual Harassment
Media, Technology, and the Workplace
Interpersonal Communication in Healthcare Settings
The Consumer-Health Provider Dyad
Sensitivity Matters
Clear Communication Matters
Perceptions Matter
Decision-Making Matters
Culture and Health Communication
Gender and Healthcare
Media, Technology, and Healthcare
Media Messages
Technology Messages
Gaining Communication Competence Across Contexts
Prepare to Handle Conflict across Contexts
Recognize That You Can’t Stay as You Are or Always Be Happy and in Good Health
Learn About Each Other