Table of Contents

Preface: Anita Konzelmann Ziv.
Self-Evaluation: Philosophical Perspectives.
PART I - Evaluative and Self-Evaluative Attitudes.
How to Have Self-Directed Attitudes: Lynne Ruder Baker.
Interpretation, Cause and Avoval: On the Evaluative Dimension of Selfhood: Axel Seeman.
Who Do You Think You are? The How-What Theory of Character and Personality: Frederico Lauria & Alain PÄŒf Ė-curto.
PART II - Self-Evaluation and Rationality.
Self-Evaluation and the Ends of Existence: Carol Rovane.
Self-Evaluation and Action: Juliette Gloor.
Self-Trust and Social Truth: Keith Lehrer.
PART III - Self-Evaluative Emotions.
Sentimentalism and Self-Directed Emotions: Jesse Prinz.
Psychopathic Resentment: John Deigh.
Self-Knowledge, Knowledge of Others, and Ä¢â¬šœthe thing called loveÄ¢â¬šœ: Edward Hartcourt.
Is Shame a Social Emotion?: Julien Deonna & Fabrice Teroni.
PART IV Ä¢â¬šœEvaluating the Social Self.
Feeling up to it Ä¢â¬šœThe Sense of Ability in the Phenomenology of Action: Hans Bernhard Schmid.
About the Authors.